FORT LAUDERDALE INTERNATIONAL FILM FESTIVAL TO UNVEIL POSTER AND SNEAK PREVIEWS
FOR 39TH ANNUAL FESTIVAL

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 1 AT SAVOR CINEMA

On Tuesday, October 1st, the Fort Lauderdale International Film Festival (FLIFF) will unveil the official poster image for the upcoming 39th annual festival taking place November 8 – 17. The festive event will kick off at 6PM at Savor Cinema, 503 SE 6th Street, Fort Lauderdale.

This year's poster features the artwork of internationally renowned artist Guy Harvey, who incorporated his recognizable marine wildlife imagery into an image created by Carlos Suarez, publisher of Venice Magazine. Without disclosing too much prior to the great reveal, the result of this unique collaboration is an iconic representation of Florida's sea life and the film industry.

In addition to the poster unveiling, the evening will include a preview of films that will screen at the film festival in November, along with live music, open bar and scrumptious light bites provided by The Boatyard and Southport Raw Bar.

The event is also a great opportunity to learn about membership options beyond the festival itself, including year 'round benefits for films and events at Savor Cinema and Cinema Paradiso in Hollywood. The party is FREE for FLIFF Members | $40 General Admission. Members receive a 15% discount for a renewal, and new members receive a $40 discount off a new membership. The 39th Annual Fort Lauderdale International Film Festival (FLIFF) kicks off on Friday, November 8th with directors, producers, actors and special guests on the Red Carpet at the Seminole Hard Rock Hotel & Casino. Continuing through November 17th, the festival features an impressive lineup of 150 films from 30 countries, several world premieres, and an exciting array of parties and special events. Throughout the festival, filmmakers and talent will conduct Q&A discussions and mingle with attendees.
